

Old Story Brings New Thrills

SCENES LIKE THIS were familiar sights to Marion city and county residents today as thousands of pupils went to classes on the opening day of school. Here six-year-old Margaret Stewart (left), is greeted at the entrance of Pearl Street School by Mrs. Richard Myers, first grade teacher. Still too young to go to school, Margaret's sister, Carolyn, 4, accompanied her to school with their dog, Peggy. The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Stewart of 634 Cleveland Ave.

Fred Vinson, Chief Justice, Succumbs to Heart Attack

Jurist, 63, Stricken, Dies Unexpectedly In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, a Kentucky jurist's son who rose to the highest judicial office in the nation, died unexpectedly of a heart attack early today.

The 63-year-old judge and former holder of many top government posts was stricken while at his Washington apartment.

His wife and his son Fred Jr. were at the apartment and summoned a physician at 2.30 a.m. But Vinson died 45 minutes later. Vinson took over leadership of the U. S. Supreme Court June 24, 1946, an appointee of former President Truman to succeed the late Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone.

The Kentuckian's death paves the way for President Eisenhower to make his first appointment to the Supreme Court bench.

Eisenhower may name his choice within the next few weeks, since the high court is scheduled to open its next session Oct. 5.

It was believed most likely that he would designate the new appointee as chief justice. But he could also choose one of the present members of the nine-man court to be chief justice and name the new appointee as an associate justice.

There was some speculation that California's Gov. Earl Warren would be Eisenhower's choice. Warren, a Republican, announced last Thursday he would not seek re-election when his present term expires at the end of next year. He gave no hint of his future plans.

At Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Denver, Assistant Press Secretary Murray Snyder said then he knew of no post for which Warren was being considered. The presidential staff said this morning there would be no comment from Eisenhower on Vinson's death until later in the day.

When Truman named the affable, middle-of-the-road Vinson as chief justice it was widely believed he was chosen as a peacemaker in the wrangle then going on between Justices Robert H. Jackson and Hugo L. Black.

Truman himself noted Vinson was to become the 13th chief justice in U. S. history, and called it "lucky for the United States and lucky for Mr. Vinson — at least I hope it is."

Truman was informed of Vinson's death shortly before boarding a plane at Detroit bound for his Missouri home.

"It is a terrible loss and a terrible shock," the former President said. "He was a great man and a great justice as well as a great citizen of the country. We'll all miss him."

Vinson as chief justice did not write a large number of the court's opinions, but a number of important cases came before the court.

Ada Girl, 3, Mt. Gilead Youth, 15, Killed in Accidents Near Kenton

Special to The Star
KENTON — A three-year-old Ada girl and a 15-year-old Mt. Gilead boy became Hardin County's sixth and seventh traffic fatalities this year.

Cheryl Kroft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kroft, was killed instantly at 10.30 p.m. Sunday, and Larry Randolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Randolph, was killed instantly at 8.30 a.m. Monday.

Cheryl's parents, Robert Kroft, 31, and Evelyn Kroft, 29, and a five-year-old brother, Ronald, and a two-year-old sister, Sandra, were all hospitalized at Hardin Memorial Hospital.

Larry was in critical condition this morning at the Kenton hospital was Mrs. Kroft with a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Mr. Kroft sustained a fractured arm, fractured ribs, and a possible skull fracture. Ronald and Sandra were being treated for multiple contusions and abrasions.

State highway patrolmen who investigated the accident, said the collision occurred at the junction of County Road 65 and State Route 69 near Ada. They said Kroft was driving the automobile, in which his family were passengers, on the county road and apparently failed to yield the right of way to a pickup truck going south on Route 69.

Driving the truck was Clifford Anderson, 29, of near Ada, and his wife, Margaret, 23. They were hospitalized at Lima Hospital. Patrolmen listed Anderson's injuries as a possible fractured pelvis and lacerations of the scalp, and his wife's injuries as severe lacerations.

Enrollment in the city schools numbered 6,319 as boys and girls returned to classrooms for the first day of school after the summer vacation.

County schools also opened today as did St. Mary Parochial School where 643 boys and girls were enrolled.

Increases were shown in the total enrollment of both the city public schools and the parochial school.

In the city schools, 394 more pupils were registered as school opened, and at St. Mary 58 more than last year were in classes. All but one of the increase shown at St. Mary were in the grade school.

Only half-day sessions were held in all schools with the pupils meeting their teachers and receiving books in some courses.

Regular classes will begin Wednesday and school lunchrooms will be opened that day.

Police Chief Tom Coon has issued a warning to all motorists, especially young people, against speeding in the school areas. This speeding in the school areas this morning, arrest of a 16-year-old was made in the vicinity of the new Harding High School where the streets are being heavily patrolled. Chief Coon has said his men will continue to make arrests as long as drivers speed and create a hazard for those young people walking.

The dead included 379 killed in traffic mishaps. The National Safety Council had estimated 440 persons would be killed in motor accidents during the 78-hour period between Labor Day and the end of the holiday season.

The traffic toll this Labor Day compared to 432 for the three-day Labor Day holiday last year and a record 461 in 1951.

"Of course we're gratified the toll is running below the council's pre-holiday estimate," said Ned H. Dearborn, safety council president.

WEST GERMAN WINNER. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer waves a greeting as he enters the chancellery office in Bonn after his landslide election triumph. His Christian Democrat party won 243 of the 487 seats in the Bundestag (lower house) on Europe's most important election since World War II.

Will Work With West

Adenauer Pledges To Unite Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—Victorious Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today began welding a new German government dedicated to the "liberation" of East Germany and close armed alliance with the West.

The 77-year-old Christian Democrat chief opened talks with political leaders on the shape of his new administration after thanking West Germans last night for the votes that put him firmly in the saddle for another four years.

Speaking to a huge victory rally gathered in the Bonn town square, Adenauer called on his people for a mighty, united effort to release the 18 million East Germans from the "yoke of Soviet oppression and slavery."

The Chancellor's consultations on his new government were expected to be short. He is scheduled to present plans for the new lineup Thursday to a committee of his party.

The new government must be approved by the incoming Bundestag (lower house of Parliament), which is expected to meet here for the first time Oct. 2.

Some sort of coalition seemed inevitable. The big question today was how many parties would be represented.

The voting Sunday gave 48 Bundestag seats to the Free Democrats and 15 to the German party, both members of Adenauer's government bloc since 1949; 3 to the Centrist party, which said it would vote henceforth along with the Chancellor, and 27 to the new Refugee party formed by the millions of fugitives from Communist-occupied Germany.

The opposition Socialists garnered the other 150 seats. Adenauer certainly again will include the Free Democrats in the government, giving him a safe majority of 97 votes.

He hinted to reporters last night that he might also continue his previous alliance with the German party, telling the newsmen the election had shown the people's faith in the old grouping and that would be borne in mind in the building of the new government.

There was also speculation Adenauer might try to bring in the Refugee faction. Its 27 deputies would give the Chancellor the two-thirds majority necessary to change the Constitution and authorize German rearmament if the West German supreme court decides the projected German participation in the European army is unconstitutional.

The refugees are interested chiefly in one thing—getting back their homes.

Dispute Shapes Up On POW Holdouts

PANMUNJOM (AP)—A full-scale dispute over the exchange of war prisoners was building up today. The Communists accused the Allies of holding back captives and the U. N. Command drafted a demand for the return of Allied POWs it asserts are still in Red hands.

While Peiping radio asserted the U. N. Command withheld 357 Chinese and Koreans from repatriation, Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters worked over a list of Americans believed in Red captivity.

The names were collected from interviews with returned prisoners, from Communist broadcasts and lists and from letters written by captives.

List to be Checked

The U. N. list, after careful re-checking, will be handed to the Communists with the demand that the Reds either return or account for the missing Americans.

The Joint Military Armistice Commission will meet Wednesday at 11 a. m. and there was a possibility the list will be given the Reds then. The meeting was requested by the U. N. Command.

Allied spokesmen said the names will be announced in Washington, but there was no indication when Nor was the number disclosed.

Peiping claimed a check of prisoner lists showed the Allies held back 228 Koreans and 129 Chinese who wanted to return to their homelands.

Both sides have insisted that all POWs who wanted repatriation were returned during the 33 days of Operation Big Switch, which ended Sunday.

Meanwhile the eighth and last troopship to return American prisoners sailed from Inchon with 297 ex-POWs for San Francisco.

Only 18 Left in Korea

That left only 18 American repatriates in Korea. All were medical cases scheduled for evacuation shortly.

Other ailing POWs were en route home by plane from Tokyo.

Meanwhile, the stage was being set for the next phase of the armistice—settling the fate of prisoners who have refused repatriation.

The U. N. Command began moving the first of nearly 23,000 Communist POWs from camps in southern Korea to the demilitarized zone.

At the rate of about 2,500 a day, the job is scheduled for completion by Sept. 18.

Traffic Survey Funds Sought

Solicitation To Obtain $12,000 Opened Here

Solicitations to raise $12,000 for a master traffic survey in Marion were begun today by members of the Grade Crossing and Traffic Survey Committee.

The $12,000 is the group's share of the $20,000 needed to finance the project. Marion City Council and Marion County Commissioners have already appropriated $8,000 of the cost.

The money is to be raised by popular subscription John V. Ruth, chairman of the committee, said today the chairman of various teams assigned to collect the funds would work at their own convenience and make their first report one week from tonight.

Adenauer's Big Victory Takes Dulles off Hook

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles' open pre-election support of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer did not backfire, but that apparently does not mean the United States will adopt similar strategy in critical future elections.

Informed diplomats said today Dulles, although jubilant over Adenauer's smashing victory, may nevertheless weigh his words more carefully when asked to comment on future foreign elections of interest to the United States.

The secretary, they said, fully realizes that anything smacking of American intervention in elections is a risky business.

Accordingly, they said, the secretary would be guided by specific developments in the future when deciding whether to make a vigorous declaration favoring any particular candidates or parties.

In the past, American policy has been to avoid studiously any acts or statements which might be interpreted as intervention in foreign elections.

Cost No Votes

Officials did not rule out the possibility that Dulles might again someday speak out forthrightly. Last Thursday, two days before German voters went to the polls, Dulles told a news conference defeat of Adenauer would be a disaster which would indefinitely delay chances of German unity and restored sovereignty for the German people.

The landslide proportions of Adenauer's victory have convinced American observers that the secretary's remarks cost the German leader no votes and possibly helped him.

CHIEF JUSTICE VINSON

Wainwright Is Buried in Rites At Arlington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright goes to rest today among the green trees of Arlington National Cemetery—with the kind of military farewell he would have liked.

With the rumble of guns and the click of horses' hooves as backdrop, the nation's top military leaders arranged to pay tribute to the hero of Bataan in solemn ceremonies ending with the salute guns roaring out 17 times.

Wainwright's funeral was the 70-year-old general won the nation's gratitude for helping to save a war while losing a campaign, the bitter stand on Bataan and Corregidor after the escape of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

He died in San Antonio, Tex., last Wednesday—eight years after witnessing Japan's formal surrender. Maltreatment in Japanese prison camps contributed to the end.

Others Among List

The troops marching today with eadenced step to the grave were under the command of Col. Dennis M. Moore, one of Wainwright's staff officers in The Philippines and himself a survivor of the Bataan "death march" and eight Japanese prisons.

And among the long list of those invited to the ceremony were a few names—but only a few—from the 300 officers and men who originally survived Bataan and Im-

Court Decided Historic Issues Under Vinson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson in almost seven years of Supreme Court leadership wrote ruling opinions that will go down in history as markers for a number of legal milestones.

Probably his most noted majority opinion was the one which upheld contempt of court fines imposed on John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers for refusal to call off a coal strike.

The chief justice also wrote for the high tribunal's majority when it upheld convictions of the top Communist leaders on charges of conspiring to overthrow the government by force and violence.

It is known that Vinson felt the most difficult case he ever encountered in his long career was the one involving President Truman's seizure of the steel industry. Vinson voted among the dissenters and wrote an opinion explaining why he felt the presidential seizure should be upheld. The majority of the court disagreed.

The chief justice in another majority opinion said courts may not be used to enforce racial restrictive covenants.

Shortly after going on the high bench he wrote a majority opinion which upheld FBI agents who arrested a Communist leader.

Greatest Blessing Is Day After

Labor Day Is Rough on Working Man

By HAL BOYLE

HOMETOWN, U. S. A. (U)—Early on the morning after Labor Day, the phone rang in the home of Joe Steady, America's average working man.

"Am I speaking to the master of the house?" asked a voice. "No," mumbled Joe sleepily. "Just a minute and I'll call her." "Oh, Mr. Steady?" said the voice. "You're the one I wanted to speak to. This is Jim Beagle, reporter on the Hometown Daily Eagle. My city editor wants a feature story on how a typical working man and his family enjoyed Labor Day. You know—king for a day, and that sort of thing. I don't know about that king business," said Joe. "But if $85 a week makes a typical working man, I'm your joker, Buster."

"Heh, heh, well, well. Would you mind telling me all the homey little details about your big day off?"

"There wasn't nothing homey about it—that's the trouble," said Joe. "We didn't stay home. I was trying to catch me some shuteye, and the missus says to get up, and we're going on a picnic. I said, 'I think it was, so we went on the picnic.'"

"Who was in the group?" pursued the voice.

"Oh, just me, her, and the kids—Junior, Sis and the baby," said Joe. "It took me three hours to tune up the carburetor on the car, and I hadda drive a hundred miles to the lake for the picnic. Hadda and the missus says to get up, and we're going on a picnic. I said, 'I think it was, so we went on the picnic.'" and she said whose day off did I think it was, so we went on the picnic."

Hadda and the missus says to get up, and we're going on a picnic. I said, 'I think it was, so we went on the picnic.'"

"A cop stopped me on the way and gave me a $25 ticket for speeding. He said I was hitting 45 miles instead of 35, when as a matter of fact my old bus wouldn't do 45 on a downgrade unless I got out and pushed it. Hey, can you help me fix the ticket?"

"Sorry," said the voice. "What else happened?"

"Well," said Joe, "one of my brothers-in-law borrowed 10 bucks from me. Later they got me to umpire a softball game, and the only close one I called at the plate got me a pop bottle in the eye, and off the record I think it was my other brother-in-law that threw it, on account of I wouldn't lend him a dime."

"Anything else, sir?"

"Well, I came back and brushed the ants off the food, and I guess kinda over-let, so I stretched out to grab me some shuteye, and all of a sudden Sis started crying because she lost one of her jacks. Then my missus hollers the baby must've swallowed it on account of she was playing in the grass with Sis, and we got to do something quick."

"So?"

"So, I step on the gas on the way to the hospital and who should I meet but the same cop, but he let me go this time. So we get to the hospital and they floor-scope the baby."

"Had the baby swallowed the missing jack?"

"No, Sis found it in her pocket later. The doc said all the floor-scope showed in the baby was what looked like the remains of a couple of grasshoppers and something else that looked like a small garter snake, but of course he couldn't be real sure."

"Was the baby upset, sir?"

"No, but my wife was. Still is. Kept yelping about it all the way home. We got home about midnight, and all three of the kids was crying, and I finally told the missus to oh, shut up, and she said who's telling whom to shut up, and so we finally got to sleep about 3 a. m. I was just getting ready to shave when you called Mr. Seagle."

"Beagle, sir, not Seagle. Well, you had quite an adventure. One final question. Every working man naturally likes to count his blessings on Labor Day. What, sir, would you say is the greatest blessing?"

"Ain't no doubt about it, Mr. Seagle," said Joe. "It's the fact you can go back to work the next day and get some rest."

3 ESCAPE AT IRONTON

IRONTON, Ohio (U)—Lawrence County Sheriff Carl E. Rose said yesterday three men being held for the grand jury picked the lock of the county jail with a key made of tobacco cans and adhesive tape. He named the escapees as Robert Barnett, Pittsburgh, and Eugene Melon, Peoria, Ill., charged with breaking and entering an Ironton automobile showroom; and Hasket Prater, Ashland, Ky., charged with firing a bullet into a motorboat on the Ohio River and wounding Miss Dorothy Culbertson of Ashland.

New Sucker Game In California Called 'Glass Eye Caper'

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The latest bunco game in these parts is known as "the glass eye caper." The operation is simple and very often very effective, possibly because the victim may have a bit of larceny in his heart. It goes like this:

A well-dressed, impressive looking man enters a store—just about any small establishment will do. As the proprietor or clerk looks up, he sees the gentleman (he's obviously all of that) suddenly raise a handkerchief to his eye, then appear to look for something on the floor.

He explains he has lost his glass eye, and continues the search.

However, he gives up in a few minutes, explaining he is in a hurry to catch a plane. He gives the proprietor the name and address of a fashionable hotel where he says he lives and tells him he will give him a $100 reward if he finds and returns the eye.

The "gentleman" leaves, and shortly afterward another man enters the store, pretends interest in its goods until something on the floor catches his eye. He stoops down and, lo and behold, he apparently has found the glass eye.

The bargaining starts, with the $100 - minded proprietor finally getting the eye from the man for $50. He figures at least a $50 profit.

But the proprietor's telegram to the hotel is returned. It seems the gentleman isn't known there.

And the victim discovers too late the eye is worth a lot less than $50.

Miss America Hopefuls Meet At Atlantic City

Preliminaries Get Started for Selection Of 1954 Beauty Queen

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A parade of pulchritude today gives boardwalk strollers their first glimpse of each of the 52 beauties seeking the "Miss America of 1954" crown.

The boardwalk parade will display each contestant on a special float as 19 bands marching alongside provide brass fanfares.

But the real grind for the girls doesn't get under way until tomorrow night when they start matching curves and talent on the stage at Convention Hall.

It will all be over Saturday.

Bumpy Skin

CUTICURA brings amazing improvement in 7 days!

Troubled with blackheads, rough bumpy skin, external causes pimples or rash? Cuticura Soap and Ointment contain Oxyquinoline Sulfate, Petrolatum and Chlorophyll—have been highly successful for 75 years. Buy today.

night with one of the beauties winning the crown, plus a total of about $50,000 in personal appearance fees, scholarships, endorsements, wardrobe and a car.

Until then, it's strictly "no dates" for the contestants. Pageant rules require the girls to stay away from men unless chaperoned.

The girls spent yesterday signing the pageant register and getting official badges, ribbons and rules. At night they went through their first rehearsal.

Leading today's parade will be crooner Eddie Fisher, this year's grand marshal.

The girls will be judged on a point system in bathing suit, evening gown, talent and personality competition.

Ohio's Candidate For Title Arrives

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Martha Zimmerman of Salem, Ohio's entry in the Miss America contest arrived here yesterday, took one look at the ocean and said she couldn't "wait to get in the water."

But a rough surf, cool breeze and cloudy sky kept most of the bathing beauties in their hotels.

LEAVE FOR U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—Sgt. 1 C Marion E. Thomas of Akron and Cpl. Beecher Mefford of Lebanon, are among 19 repatriated prisoners of war who left yesterday by plane for the United States.

Tropical Pie Combines Coffee, Rice, Gelatin

"Sing a song of sixpence, a pocketful of rye coffee, rice and gelatin made into a pie! In a new guise coffee and rice turn up with fruit and puts to give you a deliciously different pie. While your friends taste it they'll be clamoring for the recipe. Better have copies ready—along with extra portions of pie.

TROPICAL PILAFF PIE
Ingredients: 2-3 cup packaged, precooked rice, 3/4 cup cold coffee, 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold coffee, 1 cup drained crushed pineapple, 1 cup broken walnut meats, 1/2 teaspoon rum, 1 cup very fine granulated sugar, 10 inch vanilla wafer crumb crust. Method: Combine rice and 3/4 cup cold coffee in saucepan. Bring to full boil, uncovered. Cover. Remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes. Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup cold coffee, dissolve over hot water and add to pineapple and walnuts. Stir in rice and flavoring. Whip cream, adding sugar gradually, fold in. Spoon into crumb crust. Chill until firm.

Vanilla Wafer Crumb Crust
Combine 2 cups fine vanilla wafer crumbs, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon cloves, 3/4 cup melted butter or margarine. Press firmly into 10-inch pie pan. Bake in hot oven, 400 F., 8 minutes. Chill.

Officer Yields Way To Stolen Ambulance

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—Police Sgt. Jay Fletcher pulled hastily to the curb yesterday to give the right of way to an ambulance careening down the street with its red light blazing and siren screaming.

A few minutes later, Fletcher got a radio order that sent him tearing after the ambulance. He found its driver having a drink in a bar six blocks away and took him to jail for stealing the vehicle.

Former Japanese Premier Abe Dead

TOKYO (AP)—Nobuyuki Abe, Japan's Prime Minister in 1939, died at his home here yesterday after a protracted illness. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday.

Abe, 77, was governor general of Korea at the time Japan surrendered in World War II.

A graduate of the Japanese Military Academy, he became a full general in 1933.

His Cabinet resigned en bloc after four months in the face of a strong nonconfidence threat put up by the opposition.

Like all other wartime leaders he was purged. His rights were restored automatically when Japan regained sovereignty in April 1952 but he kept out of politics.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at Uhler's.

Cut From Federal Payroll

Civil Service Hunts Jobs For Victims of Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Service Commission today announced a new series of steps in its campaign to find new jobs for career government workers who have been laid off for reasons of economy.

It said it is prepared to direct that government agencies make room for displaced career workers if they can do so by firing other persons who have indefinite civil service status.

In the wake of budget cutting by the Eisenhower administration and by Congress, a number of civil service workers have complained that they were fired, sometimes after years of service, while similar jobs in other agencies are being held down by persons without civil service protections.

There has been no official estimate of how many persons are in that category, but the commission said today that more than 1,200 government career workers have appealed to it for help in finding new federal jobs.

The commission said in a statement that a series of conferences had been held with representatives of federal agencies, and that they "volunteered to work closely with the commission and to cooperate completely in these efforts."

If voluntary efforts fail, the commission said, it will take such steps as these:

1. Stop the pay of indefinite status employees who are kept on the payroll after issuance of commission orders for their displacement.

2. Withdraw from any noncooperating agency the authority to promote, demote or reassign indefinite status employees in the Washington area without prior commission approval.

3. Authorize agencies to fire voluntarily any indefinite status employees in order to hire laid-off career workers.

4. Cut in half, from 60 to 30 days, the time allowed agencies to survey their own bureaus in an effort to find a new job for a career worker who is laid off. During the 30 days, the worker given a dismissal notice would still be on the payroll. Under present regulations, the agency has 30 days after the last working day of the employee to make such a survey.

50 Irate Motorists Restrained From Attacking Driver

NEW YORK (AP)—Police restrained 50 motorists yesterday from turning on a driver who, officers said, endangered them by weaving and speeding before he sideswiped an automobile.

Police said an auto driven by Rudolph King, 23, overturned when it sideswiped a second car, which also rolled over. Enraged motorists stopped behind the wrecks on the Grand Central Parkway and descended upon King. However, three police officers happened by and immediately intervened.

King was charged with assault with a car, driving without an operator's license and dangerous driving. His brother, Dewitt King, 26, was booked for felonious assault after he arrived on the scene in his own car and, police said, got into a fight with an angry motorist.

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—President Victor Paz Estenssoro's government disclosed today that it is holding some 300 political prisoners accused of plotting against the regime.

Air Passenger Record Listed By Lake Central

Lake Central Airlines' passenger boardings during the month of August, 1953, reached the highest number in any month in the history of the company, it was announced today by Dr. R. B. Stewart, president.

The five-state airline, with headquarters in Indianapolis, also boarded more passengers in a single day on Aug. 28 than any other day since the start of scheduled operations on Nov. 12, 1949, Dr. Stewart said.

The Aug. 28 peak showed an increase over the previous record of July 31, 1953, of about one per cent.

Passenger totals have climbed steadily since the inauguration of the airline's new routes to Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Youngstown in early April, with new records being established each month. June figures were 6 per cent over May; July, 7 per cent over June; August, 5 per cent over July. Traffic systemwide in August was up 104 per cent over the same month last year.

In making the announcement, Dr. Stewart said, "We are serving cities formerly served by trunk carriers and, by increased frequency of flights, are receiving as much as 200 per cent more passengers from those cities, an indication of the true role of the local paper said."

Parachuting Politician Narrowly Misses Injury

DETROIT (AP)—A parachuting politician narrowly missed serious injury yesterday when he jumped from a plane over the Detroit River for the second time in two weeks.

Don Taylor, 56, who staged the parachute leaps to add oomph to his campaign for Detroit mayor in this fall's election, missed the river this time and dropped on the Windsor, Ont., waterfront. He suffered several cuts and was shaken up when he grazed wires and the side of a waterfront building in the neighboring Canadian city.

Last time, Taylor hit his target, and was fished out of the river by friends and the Coast Guard.

Yesterday they arrested a man crouched in the attic of a cafe and said he had chopped a hole in the roof to gain entry. Detectives identified him as Robert Elmer Nicholas, 22, and said he admitted the burglaries.

The whole four months, they learned, he had been living across the street from police headquarters.

Dollars Can't Kill

Since the Air Force and its defenders have been spreading the doctrine that Defense Secretary Wilson and his advisers are cutting out the heart of military aviation every time they save a dollar, it seems like a good time to remember the Maginot Line.

France poured money without stint into the Maginot Line. Anyone who questioned the wisdom of the project was accused of cutting out the heart of French security. When World War II began, all the Maginot Line amounted to was a super deluxe barracks for French politicians.

The Maginot Line was obsolete before it was built.

The United States, if war begins, will need the most modern air force the best designers and builders can produce. If it makes the error of wasting billions of dollars on planes which will be obsolete before they can be used, it will have bought aviation's version of a Maginot Line.

It would be convenient if dollars alone could buy national defense — if merely numerical superiority in planes, for example, could guarantee security. But it never works that way.

One bomber is worth a billion bows and arrows.

"The right weapon at the right time for the right purpose" is Secretary Wilson's aim. Mere numbers of planes will not guarantee security. They must be the best planes as of the instant they are needed.

Secretary Wilson and the joint Chiefs of Staff have no intention of hurting the air force when they curb its spending.

State Labor Laws

Alabama's passage of a law to outlaw union-shop contracts revives an issue argued to the point of exhaustion since 1947 but never settled.

Alabama's legislature made a move, in this same direction in 1949, but its governor at that time stopped it with a veto. In all, 15 states now have outlawed the closed shop and union shop to some degree.

After the Taft-Hartley Act passed in 1947, many states considered similar legislation. The burning question then, as now, was whether or not the states could and would outlaw the union shop, which had been permitted under the Taft-Hartley Act.

As to whether the states could outlaw it, the Taft-Hartley Act did not forbid them to do this. Thus it came about in 1949 that the Truman administration proposed that all states should be forbidden forever to enact any laws in a field which it said belonged exclusively to the federal government.

When that proposal was turned down, the way was cleared for the future development of state labor laws. The Alabama law and the laws of the other 14 states which previously had asserted their sovereignty in this field are presumably constitutional. It never has been established that the federal government can dominate this field if it is challenged by the states.

This fact, together with the probability that the National Labor Relations Board will shift emphasis away from federal domination, is expected to shatter the long-held illusion that a handful of labor leaders in Washington had acquired some kind of an inalienable right to decide who could work for a living in Peoria, Ill.

For Hot Weather Musing

For hot-weather musing under a leafy bush in the shade, nothing could beat a Ford Co. official's proposal for building superhighways over existing railroads in urban areas.

George J. Crimmins is the name of the genius who thought of the idea first. The name of those who will think about it twice is legion.

The railroads were built when space was easy to get. They laid their lines straight and, in most cases, logically. They own what auto expressways can get only at great expense, after long litigation.

They need the kind of tax relief which would come from splitting the high cost of being in business with automobiles that have cut them out of some of the revenue they used to have.

They could use a roof over their properties, for maintenance and operational purposes. It would be an ironic twist if some of the long-distance-haul trucks which have become their bread-and-butter competitors were to become one of their dependable clients — overhead truck traffic to reduce overhead railroad costs.

There is only one thing wrong with the Crimmins plan: it stops too soon. In these days of toll roads, why wouldn't railroad rights of way be as feasible for overhead expressways for hundreds of miles as for a few miles in urban territory? Whether the railroad lines were sunk in the ground or the express ways were built on stilts would be a matter of choice. In either case, costly grading, property condemnation and litigation would be averted. Two problems would be solved with one solution.

How To Balance Budget

By Raymond Moley

Drastic Step Necessary; Coudert Bill Is Answer

LOS ANGELES — In two previous articles I have attempted to make two points.

First, the efforts of the administration to reduce expenditures have not been effective.

Second, the forces working against economy cannot be met except by drastic action.

In this article I shall describe what such drastic action should be.

In the last days of the recent session of Congress, the powerful House Committee on Government Operations reported out with approval HR 2—a bill which had been introduced and pressed against administration opposition by Rep. Coudert. This bill was not passed, but it will be a basic fighting issue when Congress returns in January.

The discouraging progress of economy has brought me to believe that among all the plans to balance the federal budget and relieve the taxpayer, this is the soundest and the best.

The Coudert bill as amended by the Committee on Government Operations is very simple.

It declares that the "expenditures of the government during each fiscal year shall not exceed its revenues for such year except (1) in time of war declared by the Congress; or (2) during a period of grave national emergency declared by the Congress by a concurrent resolution.

It directs the President to prepare the budget in line with this policy.

It authorizes the President at any time during the year, in order to keep the budget in balance, to withhold the spending of money already appropriated "by placing funds in reserve, by apportionment of funds, or otherwise."

The latter is very great discretionary power. It means that in order to achieve the purposes of Congress in this bill, the President may withhold or reduce any appropriation or even the payment of money due under contracts already made.

This bill, to be sure, if passed would be a self-denying ordinance. It could be repealed by Congress at any time.

A constitutional amendment would be better and, in fact, Coudert has also introduced the exact language of this bill as a proposed constitutional amendment.

An enactment of this kind has a certain standing in terms of principle not enjoyed by ordinary legislation. For it is, like the fixing of the debt ceiling by law, a solemn declaration of government policy enacted at the instance of the House, in which all bills for raising revenue must originate.

Such a law would be a rule of interpretation paramount to all appropriations.

The seriousness with which Congress regards the debt ceiling, which it also passed as a self-denying act, shows the moral authority of such legislation.

The British limitations upon appropriating power are only custom but are scrupulously observed.

In arguing for this bill, Roswell Magill, former under secretary of the treasury and president of the Tax Foundation, said: "A balanced budget is not beyond the reach of the federal government. It is not generally realized that most of the states far deficit financing or debt creation for current operations through a constitutional limitation. Most of our cities also strictly limit debt."

Like all people when they are invested with public office, the people in the Eisenhower administration are impatient of restraints.

John Foster Dulles in 1952 felt that there was peril in the treaty power, but Sec. Dulles in 1953 says all is well—"don't fence me in."

Sec. Humphrey opposes what he calls the "inflexible" limits of the Coudert bill. But, as I show above, the bill actually gives the secretary, acting under Presidential authority, more power than he now has.

The director of the budget, in a letter to the Government Operations Committee, says that he does not believe expenditures can be controlled by "arbitrarily" limiting them "in any given period."

This objection can be avoided by the bill as amended unless he means that there should be no balance in any specific period.

If that is what he means, he has been taken over by the old New Dealers in his bureau who, for many years, have been advocating fiscal periods of five or more years for budget-balancing purposes.

That, incidentally, was a theory held by Rex Tugwell when he was in the government several years ago.

Since there is nothing very flexible in the limits placed upon the taxpayer, it seems to me that the tax-gatherer should be limited, too.

Room for One More

By TRUMAN TWILL

This fellow who came into the office yesterday with a Beward set off a bomb of dissension at the Twillery.

A Briard, sometimes called Chien de la Brie, is a French sheepdog built along the general lines of a lion, with a tail that hangs to the ground like an inverted question mark and hair that grows over its eyes.

This one was jet black, with long, coarse hair evenly distributed over better than 100 pounds of grinning, amiable work dog—the result of centuries of careful breeding to get one of the oldest and soundest of canine strains.

Probably no general classification of dogs can be held in higher regard than the sheep dogs. They have been men's companions and faithful servants since the pastoral age. No civilization is complete without its sheep-dog strains.

But that was not what set off the dissension. The bomb boomed when something was said about how nice it would be to have a Chien de la Brie around the place to take care of the sheep.

The same bomb was boomed before. It boomed when something was said about one of those French poodles, which were originally meant to live like roughnecks, not like gigolos. One of them would be nice to have around, too.

It boomed when an English collie was mentioned.

It was boomed for German shepherds. Old English sheep dogs. Gordon setters, Basset hounds, beagles, boxers and cocker spaniels.

It boomed a year ago when the Dalmatian moved in. What triggers it is a standing dispute over how many dogs is too many dogs.

There is no formula.

For some human beings — and no doubt some of these are good to their mothers and deserve the best — one dog is too many.

Some choke up at the idea of two. A few of us manage to get the quota up to three without precipitating a crisis. And there are rare cases where the dog census can go on up from there without undue alarm.

This does not refer to breeders or kennel keepers, but to ordinary people who like dogs and wouldn't be without one. But why not two, three, four and so on? where does the idea come from?

No one holds himself down to one goldfish. Cats frequently come in multiples. No one calls anybody to make sure it's not a sign of something coming unstuck if a person has a cageful of birds or a barnful of horses. But let dogs start piling up on the premises and rumors start.

This doesn't mean there won't be a Briard at the Twillery some day to take care of the sheep. There may be a cocker spaniel, a boxer, a beagle, a Basset hound, a Gordon setter, an Old English sheep dog, a German shepherd, an English collie, a poodle and some other kinds to take care of things, along with the Irish setter, the Dalmatian and the spaniel-type mutt now on deck.

But first, someone will have to go to make room for Dog No. 4, whatever kind that turns out to be. Hmmm.

Gratitude on the Lawn

TOLEDO, O. — Robert Radkiewicz, 11-year-old newsboy, is mowing Mrs. L. J. Richardson's lawn free these days. Young Radkiewicz was collecting along his route the other evening, eating a candy bar in between collections.

At the end of his route, he found $20 missing. Mrs. Richardson found the money crumpled inside an old candy wrapper. She read of the boy's loss in a newspaper and returned the money. She refused to accept a reward, so the newsboy is mowing her lawn without charge.

Eagles Move East

ELKINS, W. Va. — Golden eagles, usually found in the western states, have shown up in recent years in limited numbers in this mountainous area along the West Virginia-Virginia border.

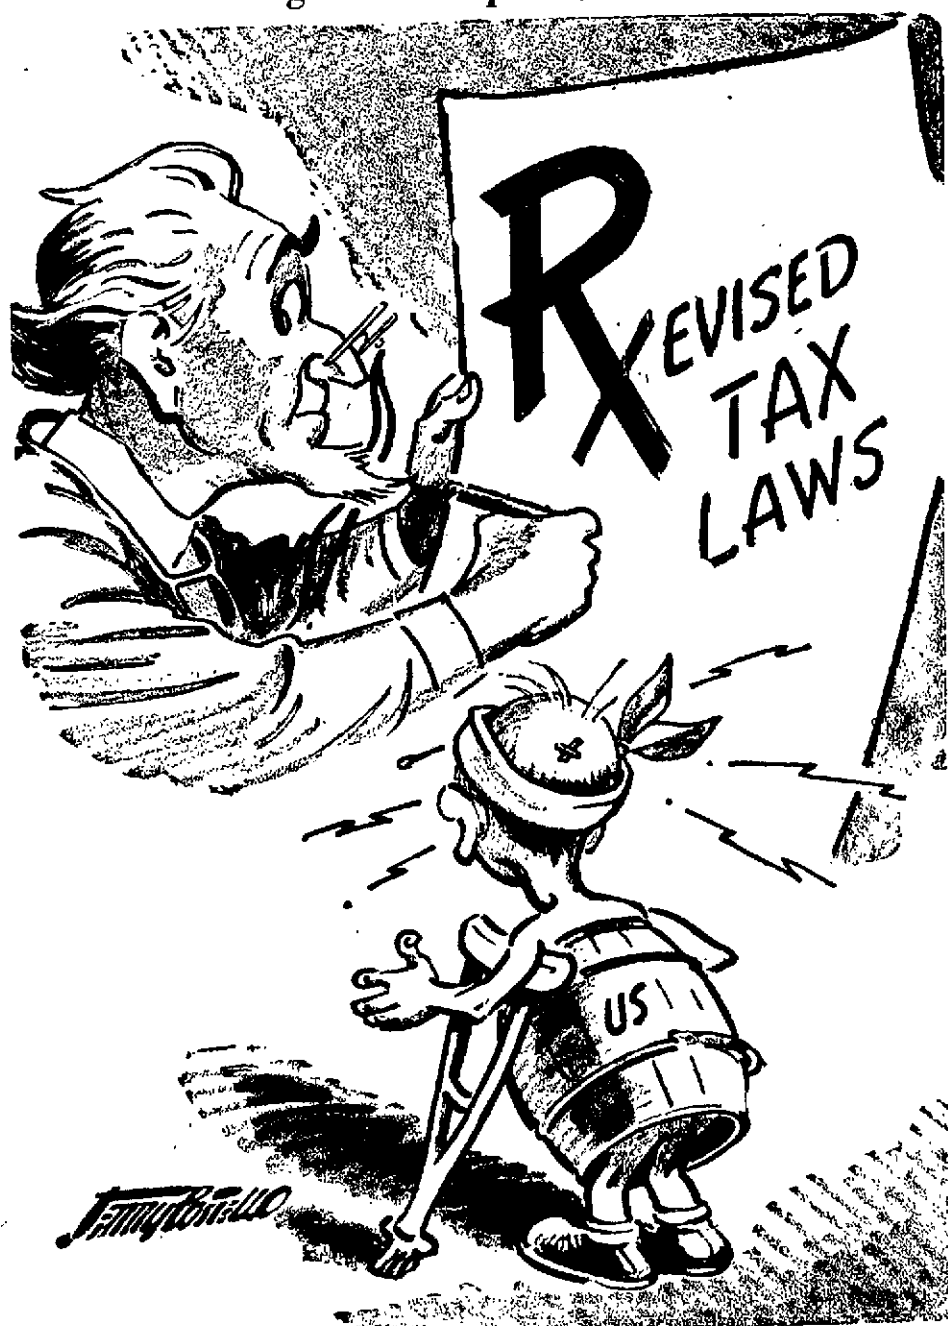

Conservation officers report two golden eagles were killed in Pocahontas County in the spring of 1952. Remains of three others were found this summer. The belief is that two giant birds had nested and been raising young in an isolated cliff. One of the last three appeared to have been an adult. All had been shot.

Both the bald eagle and the golden eagle are protected by state law in West Virginia.

'Right Prescription, Doc?'

Booklet on Congress Proves Popular

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — Every member of Congress receives questions about the government from the people back home. Out of this quizzing has grown a 68-page booklet, just published by the government, answering 291 questions.

The booklet had its origin many years ago when a Texas Democrat, Rep. Wright Patman, began writing a weekly newsletter to the newspapers in his district and each week included the answers to three questions that had been asked him.

For instance: What is the salary of the President, the vice president, a senator? How did the Democratic and Republican parties get their names? What is gerrymandering? Can a congressman be impeached? What is a veto and how does it work?

After Patman had collected a pile of such questions, and had provided answers, he began to get requests for them in batches, particularly from schoolteachers. And as a member of Congress he was in a good position to get answers to the people's questions.

If he didn't know the answers himself—looking them up, would take a lot of his time just as it would for the people asking questions at home—he could call on the staff of the Library of Congress, a block from the Capitol, to do the research for him.

In the early 1940s Patman's fellow congressmen in the House, who had been receiving the same kind of queries, voted to have a government booklet printed, wrapping up a bunch of questions and answers, for sale and distribution to the public.

From time to time the booklet was reprinted and enlarged. Patman estimates that about five million copies of the booklet have been distributed. This year another edition was authorized and it has just come off the press.

It was prepared by Patman and W. C. Gilbert of the Library of Congress. It's name is, "Our American Government: What Is It? How Does It Function?"

About 500,000 copies were turned out for senators and members of the House. If you want one free you can write to your senator or representative. Or, you can buy one for 20 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, United States Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

While this booklet is far from being an encyclopedia on government, it does have in one handy package answers which a school child or his parents or a group might not be able to find at home or in a local library, even after hours of searching.

For example, there is the question about the difference between a "bill" and an "act." A bill is the technical name for a measure introduced in either house until it has been passed by that house. Then it is known as an act.

In popular usage, however, the term "act" is used to refer to a measure which has been finally passed by both houses and becomes law, whether by approval of the President or otherwise.

At every session far more bills are introduced in both houses than ever become law. The 61st Congress (1909-11) set the record with 44,363 measures introduced in both houses. In the 82nd Congress (1951-52) only 12,062 were introduced.

But the booklet points out the enormous difference between the number of measures introduced and the number which finally get passed into law.

It says that in the first 75 Congresses, covering 150 years, a total of 726,833 bills and joint resolutions were offered in both houses. Of that number only 8½ per cent, or 60,142, were passed.

WASHINGTON—Billions of busy, buzzing bees have produced a bumper crop of honey that industry and the U. S. Department of Agriculture are promoting this fall.

The uses and consumption of honey will be stressed especially during "Honey Week," Oct. 25-31, by the American Honey Institute and the American Beekeeping Federation. The Department of Agriculture is pushing a honey program the last 10 days of the month.

Bees working in every county in the U. S. produced more than 245 million pounds of honey in 1952, ranging in flavor and color all the way from the mild, light sweet clover honey to the strong and dark buckwheat and from the wine-red of the Appalachian tulip to the yellowish-green of the California thistle.

A natural, unrefined food composed of easily assimilated sugars which provide a good source of energy for children and adults, honey is on the market in several forms. The most generally used is extracted honey, sold usually in liquid form. There's also the cream variety, made from extracted honey granulated into minute crystals; chunk honey, a combination of liquid and comb honey, and honey in the comb. Largest single use of honey, other than the home, is the baking industry, especially in breads of various kinds.

During recent years an increasing quantity has been used by manufacturers of honey-coated cereals. Some 10 million pounds are now being used each year for this purpose, according to Harold J. Clay, a principal marketing specialist in the Department of Agriculture.

Clay, who knows the bee business from A to Z says the big reason the government is supporting the price of honey is to be sure a sufficient number of colonies are maintained to take care of pollinating some 50 important agricultural crops.

"They are especially needed now that insecticides are killing off many other insects formerly effective in the work of pollination," he told me. "Bees can be moved from place to place in their hives while spraying of insecticides is under way."

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO — It was Wednesday, Sept. 8, 1943.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower announced the unconditional surrender of the Italian armed forces and said he had granted Italy a military armistice.

Reservation of seats for "This Is the Army" which was to be presented at the Ohio Theater Sept. 21 as a benefit for the Army Emergency Relief Fund began at the theater box office.

First Sgt. Harry Richard Chard, former sign painter in Marion, was top non-commissioned officer of the air base guard unit at Pope Field in Ft. Bragg, N. C.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sherman E. Jones of 475 Decatur St. in City Hospital. One of the first sorority groups to open the 1943-44 season was Ohio Eta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, whose members met with Miss Elizabeth Gray of S. Vine St.

Charles Summer Alexander, 44, of 250 Bellevue Ave., died in Grant Hospital at Columbus. Funeral services for John W. Gettys, 38, of Pedro, O., formerly of Marion and Norton who died at his home Tuesday, were to be held in the Edwin K. Smith Home for Funerals chapel on E. Center St. Friday.

Sgt. and Mrs. Harry Lazear and daughter Linda had arrived from Tulsa, Okla., to be guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brown of 543 S. Vine St. and Mr. and Mrs. John Lazear of Edison.

Benefits More If S.S. Claims Made on Time

Time is an important element where social security insurance benefits are concerned, according to Paul D. Snider, manager of the Marion social security office. He said the survivor of a deceased insured worker should get in touch with the social security office without delay and an insured worker nearing or past age 65, should go to the social security office before deciding on the time of retirement.

Furthermore, the time worked in employment or self-employment covered by the law determines whether or not you are insured at the time of retirement or death, Snider said.

The time when you retire at age 65 or later and make a claim for monthly benefit payments is equally important. This is because the date of entitlement affects the benefit rate of payments to you and your family. A variation of several dollars a month in benefit rates may occur if a claim is made, for example, on June 30 instead of July 1, or vice versa. If a claim is made on July 1, which should have been made the day before there is nothing which can be done to correct the disadvantage, he noted.

In case of the death of the insured breadwinner, the total of benefits payable to the survivors depends on the time the claim is made. A delay can cost each entitled member of the family one or more months insurance benefit payments. This is because back payments can be made for six months from the time a claim is made.

The social security office in Marion is located at 127 W. Church St. The office is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday, and the telephone number is 2-9547.

Reuther Declares Labor Plans Fight Against Depression

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Labor says it is going to "fight and plan to avoid a depression," Walter Reuther told Labor Day rally here yesterday.

The president of the Congress of Industrial Organization spoke in Summit Beach park.

"The Communists say prosperity in America is geared to war," said Reuther. "They say that with peace in Korea we will have mass unemployment."

But American labor rejects the notion that depressions are inevitable, because "depressions are man made, and what man makes he also can avoid," he declared.

HAWAII IOLANI PALACE HONOLULU

The Hawaiian Islands, rightly called the "Pearl of the Pacific," are the most isolated inhabited islands in the world, more than 2,000 miles from the nearest neighbor, California. They were formed along a crack on the ocean bottom by a string of volcanoes some of which have hoisted themselves seven miles straight up from the ocean floor. The Republic of Hawaii was officially annexed to the United States by the so-called Hawaiian Resolution, approved July 7, 1898. The formal transfer of sovereignty took place in a colorful ceremony in Honolulu, one of the most beautiful cities in the world. The Organic Act, creating a government for the Territory of Hawaii was approved April 30, 1900. Iolani Palace, the Capitol building, is located in Honolulu, on the island of Oahu. Nothing about the Palace is more inviting than the design, some think it resembles a residence built in Athens. Many residents of Hawaii believe it was modeled after an Italian palace, still others think of it as a piece of modern French architecture. It was completed in 1882 at a cost of $145,000. The total area of the islands is 6,406 square miles.

Car Overtakes East of Upper, 2 Badly Hurt

UPPER SANDUSKY — Two women from near Johnsville were in serious condition in Wyandot Memorial Hospital after the car in which they were riding skidded off the road at 6:30 p.m. yesterday on Route 50 N near here.

They are Mrs. Bertha Grogg and her mother Mrs. Mary Shupp. Both received serious back injuries in the accident.

According to Wyandot Sheriff Dean McAllister, Trent Laverne Grogg, 38, husband of the injured Mrs. Grogg, lost control of the car when he pulled off the road in an effort to avoid an oncoming truck which had swerved to the wrong side of the highway.

The car skidded on the berm and rolled over several times finally landing in a ditch beside the road. Driver of the truck, Harold L. Sowers, 16, of Gallon, told the sheriff he was trying to find the light switch in the truck and took his eyes off the road.

He said when he looked up he saw the car on the side of the road and stopped to help. There was no collision.

Two other persons in Grogg's car were not injured. They were Grogg's son Jimmy, eight, and his mother, Mrs. Orla Grogg, 68. The accident happened six miles east of Upper Sandusky.

BREAKS BOTH WRISTS

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Jessie E. Burt, 75, of Portsmouth, was a patient in University Hospital today with both wrists broken, as the result of a fall.

Her daughter, Mrs. William F. Vaughn, with whom Mrs. Burt was visiting, said her mother became dizzy at the top of the basement stairs and fell backward.

Electronic Brain 'Learns' Like Rat

CLEVELAND (AP)—Now there is an electronic brain which can "learn" in the same fashion as a laboratory rat.

Long known to scientific research is the rat—or other creature—which can learn to follow a maze, or ring a bell, or go to a light in the correct manner, and is rewarded by food.

Dr. L. Benjamin Wyckoff Jr., of the University of Wisconsin described to the American Psychological Assn. today a new model of electronic brain which "behaves" according to a particular theory of learning.

The theory is that when a creature makes decisions, such as following a path, the most important factor in the decisions is what happened on past occasions.

The laboratory rat, for example, may discover that if he turns to the right he gets the food. Finally he gets to making right turns consistently because they have been rewarding in the past.

The new electronic brain, known technically as an analog computer, has been constructed to imitate the rat.

Ashland Youth Suffers Only Injury in City

A 15-year-old Ashland youth was the only person injured in one of five accidents investigated Monday by city police.

Larry Street of Ashland suffered abrasions on the left side and right arm when thrown from his motor scooter after striking a car at the intersection of York and Waterloo Sts.

He was taken to City Hospital where he was treated. Then he was cited to appear before juvenile officers to answer a charge of driving a motor scooter with no operator license.

The accident happened at 2:40 Monday afternoon. The boy was driving west on York St. Driving north on Waterloo St. was Robert W. Wixstead, 35, of near Marion. The front end of Wixstead's car was slightly damaged by the impact, while the scooter was badly damaged. The scooter was taken to a garage.

Delmar J. Robinson, 54, of 915 Bennett St. was arrested as a result of an accident in which he was involved at 1 p.m. Monday at the corner of Columbia St. and State St.

Robinson was charged with operating with no driver's license, driving with no brakes, and fraud in obtaining a fictitious operator's license. Police Chief Tom Coon said Robinson had sent another person to obtain his driver's license for him and the license Robinson showed police at the time of the accident did not belong to him.

Robinson pleaded guilty to the charges this morning and was fined $65 and costs by Judge W. Dexter Hazen.

The accident involved a Safety Cab driven by Walter V. Williams, 47, of 391 Blaine Ave. The cab was southbound on State St. and Robinson was eastbound on E. Columbia St. The taxi was damaged in the right fender and front end, while Robinson's car was damaged in the left fender and front end. Robinson's car was towed from the scene of the accident.

Another driver was arrested for having no brakes after she became involved in an accident at Leader and Fairground St. Monday at 2:50 p.m. Mrs. Esther Wheeler of 250 Senate St. was cited to appear in court today after she struck the rear of a car driven by Curran Martin, 45, of Dante, Va.

The rear end of Martin's car was damaged in the mishap, and the front end of Mrs. Wheeler's car was damaged. Her car was towed away after the crash.

Another Safety Cab was involved in an accident at Lincoln and Wilson Ave., Monday at 2:45 p.m. Driving the other car involved was Miss Norma J. Strawser of Marion, Ind.

Driver of the cab was Donald N. Bowman, 24, of 605 E. Farming St. The right side of his vehicle was damaged. The front end of Miss Strawser's car was smashed in. Both cars had to be towed away.

Bowman was driving south on Lincoln Ave. and Miss Strawser was traveling east on Wilson Ave. Both told police they were going about 35 miles an hour.

Two cars collided on S. Main St. Sunday night at 6:28 across from the Ohio Market. The right front fender of a car driven by Thomas C. Snider, 26, of Peebles, O. was damaged in a mishap with a car driven by Earl Thurman, 58, of near Marion.

Thurman's car was damaged on the left front fender. Both vehicles were going north on S. Main St.

The Army's 32nd Infantry Division generally is credited with more combat time than any other World War II division. In action in the Pacific theater, the division piled up more than 600 combat days.

No Injuries in County

No one was injured in four holiday traffic accidents in Marion County investigated by state patrolmen and the sheriff's department.

Three cars were damaged in an accident at 4:50 p.m. Sunday on Route 30-S at its intersection with Fairground St., one mile west of Marion.

Cars driven by Edith Smith of 461 Avondale Ave. and Carl Mercer, 47, of Dayton were stopped to turn onto Fairground St., patrolmen said, and a car operated by Chester Osler, 34, of Waynesburg, O. hit the Mercer car in the rear.

The impact drove the Mercer car into the Smith car. All cars were traveling east on Route 30-S. The front end of the Mercer car was damaged while the rear of the Smith car was moderately damaged and the front and rear of the Mercer car was heavily damaged.

Osler was cited to appear in Municipal Court Sept. 19 on a reckless operation charge.

A Marion man was arrested on an intoxication charge out of an accident Sunday at 8:45 p.m. on Route 4 at the intersection of County Rd. 67, seven miles north of Marion.

A car driven by Chester B. Morris, 56, of 524 N. Prospect St., traveling west on the county road, went across the highway and into the ditch on the county road.

There was only scratches to the fenders of his car, patrolmen said. When patrolmen arrived at the scene Morris was walking along the road and he was charged with intoxication. He appeared in Municipal Court this morning.

A car received only slight damage when it left the road in an accident Monday at 7:55 a.m. on Route 98, one and one-half miles north of Waldo.

The car driven by Donald L. Hintz, 22, of Clyde, O., traveling north, left the highway on the right side and struck a gate of a fence owned by Carl Klingel of near Marion, causing slight damage.

In one accident reported to the Marion County sheriff's office only slight damage resulted to the two automobiles involved.

The accident occurred at 11 a.m. Monday at the Lawrence Market on Route 30-S east of Marion. Reports indicate that a car driven by Frieda S. Uphoff of 480 Pearl St. who was making a turn in the parking lot in front of the market, struck a parked car owned by C. F. Henson of 193 Senate St.

The U. S. Army band included in songs for the service one of the general's favorites, "Brave Rifles," the song of the 3rd Cavalry, and "Auld Lang Syne," the tune which brought tears to Wainwright's eyes when he formally retired from the Army five years ago.

The Army chief of staff, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, headed the honorary pallbearers. The 11 others were drawn mostly from Wainwright's 1906 class at West Point.

rested a man and then ransacked his home without a search warrant. This decision brought sharp protest from civil liberties groups and was widely discussed among lawyers and bar associations.

Vinson's last major opinion was made public June 19. In it he explained why he had called a special session of the court to consider the stay of execution granted by Justice Douglas to atone spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. Vinson also explained in the same lengthy opinion why the court majority had ruled to override the stay.

The chief justice in preparing for the new term which opens Oct. 5 knew he faced another major case. This was the issue of whether racial segregation in public schools violates the Constitution. The court heard arguments on the issue last term but was unable to reach a decision and called on attorneys to present new arguments for three days next December.

In his role as peacemaker on the troubled court, Vinson set a low mark for casting dissenting votes and writing dissenting opinions.

Now Even Groundhogs

Are Getting Belligerent

ROARING SPRING, Pa. (UP)—Game Protector R. F. Turley claims he was "attacked" by a groundhog recently, probably because his crow calls were so realistic.

Turley was crouched behind some bushes just after he had given out with a volley of loud "caws." Out came a groundhog which headed right for him, jumped against his leg and then turned and disappeared.

Turley found the animal's fresh dug hole. He theorized that it may have been "trying to drive me away from the vicinity of its den because crows kill young groundhogs."

Who Caught Who, Asks Fisherman in Missouri

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo. (UP)—A fisherman along the St. Francis River caught the culprits who were meddling with his trap.

He found three men chopping up his wooden fish trap.

"Hey — that's my trap you're breaking up," the man cried.

That's all the men wanted to know. The three were state conservation agents. It cost the fisherman $19.50 plus costs for fishing by improper methods.

NEW BRIDGE PLANNED

ISTANBUL (UP)—The Turkish government has decided to build a suspension bridge across the Straits of Bosphorus, which divide Europe from Asia. Several international construction firms have been invited to study the project.

The government also plans to construct a subway in Istanbul.

Ashley Youth Is Hurt in Morrow County Mishap

An Ashley youth was slightly injured in a traffic accident near Edison in Morrow County Monday. Larry D. Landon, 17, of Ashley, passenger in a car driven by Paul R. Orsbon, 17, of near Delaware, received a forehead laceration and was taken to Morrow County Hospital at Mt. Gilead where he was treated and released.

The Orsbon car and a car operated by Earl J. Stoner, 32, of near Delaware were involved in the accident of County Rd. 9 in Morrow County, one mile north of Route 42 and two and one-half miles south of Edison, at 3:30 p.m. Monday.

Patrolmen said the two cars sideswiped at the crest of a hill. Stoner was traveling north and the Orsbon car was southbound.

The left side of the Stoner car was heavily damaged and there was moderate damage to a trailer being pulled by the car. The left front, rear and right side of the Orsbon car was extensively damaged, patrolmen said. A wrecker was used to move the Orsbon car.

Patrolmen said there were eight occupants in the Stoner car and two in the Orsbon vehicle.

tribunal during his stewardship. One of the most famous involved condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg last June. Vinson summoned his associates back to the bench shortly after the court had officially recessed, to weigh a last-minute stay of execution granted by Justice William O. Douglas.

The court swept aside the stay on June 19 and the Rosenbergs were executed that night.

In a formal opinion issued later Vinson said Douglas had the power to issue the stay, but he defended the court's action in setting it aside and said the body had acted properly in meeting in prompt special session.

Kentucky Hometown Goes Into Mourning

LOUISA, Ky. (UP)—Folks in Louisa, his home town, heard with sorrow of the death today in Washington of their most distinguished citizen, Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson.

Mayor Edgar Van Hoose ordered flags flown at half staff on the postoffice, City Bldg. and schools, and said business houses would close for the funeral.

Miss Lou Vinson, 74, the chief justice's sister and the only surviving member of his immediate family, was in seclusion.

Mrs. R. L. Vinson, wife of a cousin of the chief justice, a retired banker, received the word of Vinson's death by telephone from Fred Jr., his son, from Washington.

Mrs. Vinson said "Miss Lou is torn all to pieces."

Vinson, himself, paid tribute to his sister on July 11, 1951, when a granite monolith was unveiled in his honor here:

"I loved my brothers," he said. "But I just can't tell you how I love my sister Lou. She was my second mother and a darling one at that."

Mrs. Vinson said there would be a brief funeral ceremony for the chief justice in Washington, followed by a service at the Louisa Methodist Church here at a time to be set.

The burial will be in the family plot at Pine Hill Cemetery, on a bluff overlooking Louisa.

Marion Woman Struck By Train Sent to Hospital

A Marion woman was injured this morning when struck by a train at 4:05 Police reported she apparently was walking along the right of way of the Erie Railroad and was hit by an Erie passenger train.

Mrs. Nellie Rank of 626 Miami St. was taken to City Hospital where X-rays were taken to determine the extent of her injuries. There were no witnesses.

Police said the accident happened on the railroad right of way and not at an intersection.

Hospital authorities today said her condition is "fair."

National Coon Dog Field Trials Drawing to Climax Near Kenton

Special to The Star

KENTON — The 26th annual National Leafy Oak Coon Dog Field Trial being held near here is reaching its climax.

Leafy Oak officials said the trial won't be completed before dark tonight or Wednesday.

Some 31 heats in addition to a number of post entry heats remain to be run. A total of 25 heats were run on Sunday, opening day, and approximately 28 were completed Labor Day.

Nearly 700 dogs were entered in the trials for the $20,000 prize money, $2,000 of which is the guaranteed stake for the Leafy Oak final.

"Miller's Zip," owned by W. Miller of Smithville, was first tree dog in the pup derby held Sunday morning. The 14-month-old Blue Tick dog was one of 16 pups entered in the event. First line dog was Black Joe, owned by a Mr. Long of Ohio, and second line dog was Thorne Leads Bill, owned by C. T. Swenhart of Apple Creek, and former owner of Miller's Zip.

Red Tess, owned by Carl W. Wilson of Glenford, was judged "Champion of Champions" in the dog show held Saturday and Sunday at the Leafy Oak site. There were 210 dogs in the show.

A four-year-old Red Bone female, Red Tess has only lost four times in 28 similar shows. The United Kennel Club champion two years ago, the dog will be retired if it wins once more the title of "Champion of Champions."

Large crowds attended the show both nights and big crowds also have been watching the field trials held on the Harry Duckham farm on Route 292.

ject of government is to help big business."

Truman also had harsh words for the law which gave the coastal states the right to oil and other resources in the submerged lands out to their historic boundaries.

"Look what they have done with your immense offshore oil interests," he said. "They have given away billions of your dollars to pay a political debt . . . by comparison the teapot dome scandal was petty larceny."

Assaults Defense Cut

As for defense budget cuts, Truman declared:

"I should think a first-class Air Force and air raid defense system . . . would be worth quite a lot more to us just now—even if it unbalanced the budget for awhile and deferred a tax cut for some years to come."

Sen. George (D-Ga.) said of the speech: "It sounds a little bit political to me. I think the former President has something in that direction in mind for the party if not for himself."

Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) said in Des Moines, however, that Truman had voiced a fear which he said is in most American minds, "and that is that the reactionary wing of the Republican party seems to have taken control of the present administration."

The first United States coin minted in Connecticut was struck from dies made by a counterfeiter in 1787. Abel Buell had been jailed for altering bills of credit before he made the dies.

West Won't Retreat If Russians Attack, Gruenther Claims

WASHINGTON (UP) Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther says the mission of his Western European army is to defend the area and that, if the Russians attack, "we are not planning to retreat—we intend to stay."

Gruenther said, in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report made public last night, that if the nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization stick together, "we are going to reach a position of strength which will make aggression so unprofitable that it will never take place."

The general, who recently succeeded Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as NATO commander, was asked whether his forces, which he said had doubled in strength since 1951, could hold a beachhead in Europe in the face of Russian attack.

"Oh, we could hold a beachhead if that were our objective," Gruenther said, and he added: "The question of whether or not we could hold a beachhead involves a retreat concept. This command is not organized to plan a withdrawal. We intend to stay."

He conceded, however, that if the Communists were willing to pay the price they could win the first phase of any new war in Europe.

Nation

"However, it's tragic that the estimate was as close as it was. It's a pity that a holiday must be accompanied by such wholesale slaughter."

The 1952 Labor Day holiday violent death toll was 558, including 432 in traffic and the record toll in 1951 was 658.

The biggest single traffic toll this year was at Tampa, Fla., with seven women and girls killed in a train-auto collision. In the miscellaneous group, 18 persons lost their lives in a fire in Chicago.

The deaths by states, traffic, drowning and miscellaneous, in that order:

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Dog Scratched Door

Q: My dog has made many very deep scratches in the bottom of my door and it looks very shabby. I would like to repair it but the scratches are so deep I could never sandpaper them out. What do you suggest?

A: Frankly, the simplest remedy, and one that would minimize this annoyance in the future, would be to have a hardware store or sheet metal worker make you a plate of brass or stainless steel the width of the door and as high as the lower edge of the panels, and which can be screwed to the door. The other method, that is, of taking out the scratches, will be a much longer process. A scraper for this type of work is inexpensive and available at any hardware store. Use the scraper until all but the very deepest scratches are smoothed out. The remaining scratches can be filled with spackle, wood filler, or plastic wood, and the area refinished to match the rest of the door. Since this kind of matching is frequently difficult, it may result in your having to repaint the entire door frame. Once the repair job is done, you will again face the problems of keeping the dog from putting on more scratches.

COLD FLOORS

Q: Is there a way to make the floors warmer in a practically new house with a blower-type gas furnace? The living room has two cold air returns. The house has a good-sized crawl space which remains damp although there are six air vents, but we have no water problems. Would cold air returns in bedrooms and kitchen be of any help?

A: The solution to your problem is to insulate the underside of your floor by placing a moistureproof blanket or batt type of insulation between the floor joists. Then to minimize the dampness of the air space under the house, cover the ground with a moisture and vaporproof paper or aluminum foil, overlapping the sheets ten to twelve inches. The edges of the sheet should lap over on to the foundation walls for a distance of about twelve inches. Seal all laps with asphalt roof cement.

Congressmen Visit Africa, Greeted by Marionite's Friend

Among those welcoming the members of the United States joint congressional committee on atomic energy at Capetown, South Africa, earlier this month was J. H. Viljoen, minister of mines. Viljoen, who is an acquaintance of R. T. Lewis and Viljoen lunched together in Interlaken, Switzerland, last June when the former was making a tour of European countries.

Other Uses Discovered For Rice Insect Spray

DAVIS, Calif. (UP)—One of the accidental discoveries that consistently has marked scientific progress occurred here recently in spraying operations to control rice field leaf miner.

W. Harry Lange, associate professor of entomology on the Davis campus of the University of California, was conducting Dieldrin spray operations to control leaf miner.

However, rice growers reported the spray, in addition to aiding the control of the leaf blight, also killed gnats, mosquitoes and flies. Many of the mosquitoes were of the species that transmit encephalitis and malaria.

Lange said the Dieldrin spray

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only 58¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly.

Our hats are off to the weather people. No better place than the Ritz for hot-weather eating.

Government's Monopoly Of Atomic Power Scored

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (U)—Nobel Prize winner Harold C. Urey today urged giving some atomic power to Americans.

He said atomic power will come sooner if free private enterprise is set loose to work upon it. And he said if that happens he'd probably invest in a small company, betting on it to help speed along the atomic age much like Ford and others did to create the automobile age.

Dr. Urey, professor of chemistry at the Institute of Nuclear Studies in Chicago, worked on the atomic project during the war.

He told the American Chemical Society that he favors changing the Atomic Energy Act to "remove the government monopoly." He said industry and inventors should be allowed to patent their own atomic inventions or developments, and the government should sell uranium or other atomic fuels as reasonable cost.

"Atomic energy does me no good at all (as a private citizen) until I can press a button on the side of a wall and secure electric light at a price that is competitive with other sources of energy."

Dr. Urey declared we must think of a new industry "instead of always thinking of attaching the atomic energy program onto the tail of another industry."

"The automobile was not developed by the railroads or by the big electrical companies. It was developed by new, small industries which have now grown to gigantic size."

"If we had a government commission back in 1900 or thereabouts considering the development of the automobile industry, they would of course have tried to get the railroads to help them with this problem, and no one would have looked up Henry Ford or Walter Chrysler and a few people of this kind. And it is exactly the people of the kind of Henry Ford and Walter Chrysler and others that must be induced to help to develop this problem."

Patents are an important way of helping them, he said.

Dr. Urey said he thinks "the development of atomic energy for peacetime purposes has been rather slow in this country," and other nations may beat us to it.

"It has always been a little bit surprising to me that the Congress of the United States should have passed such an obviously socialistic bill as the Atomic Energy Act of 1946," he said.

Explaining this, he said, "I believe there are certain fields in which it is quite necessary that the government shall take over and carry through certain developments, but I do not believe that a new industry—one where developments must be made—is the proper type where this should be done."

As for the question of security or secrecy, Dr. Urey remarked that "because our military ships are kept secret does not require that the whole steel industry shall be run by the state."

EIGHTEEN DIE IN TENEMENT FIRE. Smoke pours from upper floors of a tenement house in Chicago's south side section as firemen battle blaze which took the lives of at least 18 persons. Nine of the 18 bodies taken from the four-story building were those of children. A search was begun for possible other victims who may have been buried when the back of the building collapsed.

May Be Short-Lived

New Speed Marks Set At National Air Show

DAYTON, Ohio (U)—Record sets of the three-day National Aircraft Show which ended here yesterday expect their glory to be short-lived.

Most of them feel it will be no more than a year before planes now in the experimental stage shatter the new marks, just as old ones fell in quantity here over the holiday weekend, before crowds totaling 200,000.

Four new world records came out of the closing day's program. But they resulted from pre-show runs which were not announced until yesterday. Cool, cloudy weather ruled out any chance of bettering the pre-show marks before a final day crowd of about 50,000.

Helicopter speed and altitude records disclosed yesterday were set earlier by Air Force Capt. Eugene M. Dobyns of Norfolk, Va. Because of unfavorable weather he did not even try yesterday to beat his altitude record of 22,289 feet set last Wednesday or the helicopter speed mark of 146.735 m.p.h. he made Friday for a 1 1/2-mile straightaway. Both world record performances were in a Piasecki YH21 "Workhorse."

The Thompson Trophy Race, once the multi-entry thriller of the national air races, was a solo flight by Brig. Gen. J. Stanley Holtner, 42-year-old commander of Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. The 681.576 m.p.h. he flew yesterday in a North American F86D Sabre jet stands as a jet record for the race.

But last Wednesday Gen. Holtner in a Sabre jet and in better weather zipped around the 100-kilometer (62-mile) closed course in 59.118 m.p.h. That shattered a world mark Jacqueline Cochran set for the 100-kilometer closed course last June 3 in a Canadian-built F8E.

"I expect this record won't stand too long," Holtner said. "We've got experimental planes which could break it tomorrow. I was flying a standard production model."

Capt. Harold E. Collins of Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., also flying an F86D, made low altitude upwind

Probers Seek Cause of Fatal Chicago Fire

CHICAGO (U)—Police and Fire Department officials today sought to determine the cause of a fire that swept through a South Side tenement early yesterday, killing at least 18 persons.

The known victims in the fire that destroyed a four-story brick building were five women, four men and nine children, all Negroes. They were among about 150 persons believed to have been in the tenement when the fire broke. Among the dead were nine members of one family, including six children.

Firemen said it would be several days before the debris is cleared sufficiently to determine whether it contained more dead.

Separate investigations were being made by the fire department, the city building department and the coroner's office. An inquest was to be held today.

Record Enrollment Reported at Galion

GALION (U)—St. Joseph's Parochial School opened at 8 o'clock this morning with Mass in the church. Pupils were dismissed at 10:30 a.m., until 1 p.m., when they were scheduled for an afternoon session. Full sessions will begin Wednesday morning.

Sister Mary Lisette, principal of the school and teacher of the 11th and 8th grades, reported heaviest enrollment in the school's history, about 200 pupils. The first grade has 48 pupils which is a record enrollment, she said.

Other teachers at the school are Sister Mary Theona, grade one; Sister Mary Alexius, grades two and three; and Sister Mary Ermenhilda, grades four, five and six.

Collins said he believes his time yesterday was a little over 700 m.p.h. He, too, flew a standard ship but said the outside of it had been waxed. He does not believe his record will last beyond next summer before "some new type of plane" excels it.

Ox Team May Make Comeback in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (U)—An ox team may make a one-day comeback on St. Louis streets.

Austin C. Knetzger, manager of the St. Louis Team and Truck Haulers Assn., thinks it would be interesting for present-day St. Louisans to see what was used before trains and trucks took over the job of hauling merchandise.

He plans the appearance for a national conference of cartage firms Sept. 23.

But he has one problem — he hasn't been able to find a pair of oxen or a cart.

Increases Expected Over 1952-53

Estimated 4,756 Students Expected in Bucyrus Area

Special to The Star
BUCYRUS (U)—An estimated 4,756 Bucyrus and Crawford County rural school children were enrolled today for opening day classes.

City School Supt. I. James Miller expected an opening day enrollment of 2,010, an increase of 113 over attendance last June when school ended. He predicted that enrollment in the high school would be 735, an all-time record, while grade school pupils would total 1,275, including 180 in kindergarten classes.

At Holy Trinity Parochial School here, Rev. Fr. Leo L. Reinartz said an enrollment of 155 was expected. The school includes grades one through eight and the teaching staff includes Sisters Genevieve, Virginia and Jean.

In the county's 10 rural schools, County School Supt. S. K. Sollars is anticipating an enrollment of 2,600, an increase of about 50 over the 1952 opening day total.

There will be at least 10 new teachers in the Bucyrus school system. They include John V. Hutson, head basketball coach, formerly at Shadyside High School; Merlin C. Apel, an assistant coach, coming here from Bladens-burg; Miss Winona Bollenbacher, mathematics and English, formerly at Utica; Howard C. Bryant, history and mathematics, and his wife elementary, formerly at Crooksville; Robert Wolfe, assistant coach and mathematics, formerly at Harpster; Curtis Kuenzli, Bucyrus, science and mathematics; Miss Martha E. Hesson, Spanish, Latin and English, coming from Hillsboro; Mrs. Joyce Lihan, Bucyrus, girls' physical education; Miss Marilyn Smith, a resident of near Bucyrus, home economics.

Ohio Convict Added to FBI's 'Wanted' List

WASHINGTON (UP)—Lloyd Reed Russell, 32-year-old Midwestern robber, today was added to the FBI's list of 10 most-wanted fugitives.

Russell, who has figured in a number of daring prison escapes, is the last man remaining at large from a group of seven convicts who burned their way out of the Marquette branch of Michigan State Prison May 22.

Russell at the time was serving a long sentence for the shooting of a Michigan State Police detective after making a previous escape from a prison farm at London, Ohio.

In the Michigan break, he and six other inmates were working on a repair job inside a cell block when they obtained an acetylene torch, armed themselves with knives and overpowered two guards. They used the torch to cut their way through the cell block bars and fled into a nearby woods. Within less than a month, all except Russell were recaptured.

When Russell and a companion escaped from the Ohio prison farm, they made their getaway by going hand over hand on a high tension wire for 200 yards to drop outside the walls. After robbing a postoffice and grain elevator at Toledo, the two got across the Michigan State line and ran through a series of police road-blocks, at one of which they opened fire on pursuing officers, severely wounding one of them.

The fugitives were finally captured near Boot Lake, Mich., in May 1950.

Russell has a criminal record, largely involving robbery, dating back to 1938.

NEW KIND OF BUTTER

CONCORD, N. H. (UP)—The No. 1 problem in Washington these days is "butter," according to U. S. Sen. Styles Bridges (R., N. H.).

But not the kind you spread on bread, Bridges told a group of farmers. He said he was referring to persons who are "for economy, but er"—so long as it doesn't affect them.

Clardon and La Rue won both their games in last year's preview and shared the league championship.

First league game is Sept. 18 with Johnsville traveling to Waldo. Waldo is making its league debut this year. League action gets into full swing the following Friday, Sept. 25, when four games are scheduled.

Hornsby Called In Chicago Death

CHICAGO (U)—Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs and a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, was summoned to an inquest today into the death of a woman who was found outside a North Side apartment hotel yesterday.

The woman, described as an acquaintance of the onetime National League baseball star, was identified by police as Mrs. Bernadette Ann Harris, 55.

Hornsby, 57, who has been separated from his wife Jeanette since June 1952, arrived in Chicago last night from St. Louis but declined to talk to reporters. The coroner's office said a subpoena would be issued if Hornsby failed to appear at the inquest today.

Police said Mrs. Harris apparently had plunged to her death from her third-floor apartment.

Hornsby was notified of Mrs. Harris' death, police said, after they had found a card in her purse which read: "In case of accident notify Rogers Hornsby." Police said they also found in Mrs. Harris' room a plaque reading: "Rogers Hornsby, the best player of yesterday."

James Gallagher, general manager of the Chicago Cubs baseball team, said he knew Mrs. Harris and said she was an acquaintance of Hornsby.

Police said a checkbook in Mrs. Harris' name showed deposits of $6,817 on March 31, 1952; $7,024 on April 24, 1952, and $15,000 on Sept. 2, 1953. They said cards found in her apartment indicated she was a registered nurse.

Hornsby's wife was awarded $400 a month temporary support payments in St. Louis last May, 11 months after she filed suit for separate maintenance.

The Industrial League at Marion Recreation Friday, Walt Mayes Decorators, with 826-2246, topped the teams.

Bob Schnelker at EndBrownies Prep for Bears After Nipping Baltimore

HIRAM, Ohio (U)—Having stopped the Colts, the Cleveland Browns now can go after the Bears.

They will meet the Bears Friday night in Chicago, the third exhibition game in eight days, after getting a 24-24 tie with the Detroit Lions Friday night and a 23-21 win over Baltimore last night in the Ruber Bowl. The Browns' only pre-season loss has been to the Los Angeles Rams, and they hold a win over the San Francisco 49ers.

The Browns waited until the third quarter last night to start rolling, and needed some long distance running and passing to turn the trick. Otto Graham had 18 completed passes in 36 tries, for 281 yards, and the ground offense was good for 183.

Rookie Bob Schnelker was playing offensive left end in place of Darrell Brewster, and Sherman Howard, the utility halfback—fullback, was playing defensive right half in place of Tommy James. Brewster had a scalp cut and James was shaken up in an auto accident Sunday night near here. It was similar to the accident which Chick Jagade and George Ratterman had last month.

The Colts opened the scoring in the first period by going 80 yards in eight plays.

The second period was marked only by Lou Groza's 38 yard field goal, but the Browns got down to business in the third. It was a 34-yard run by Dub Jones, after a pitch-out, that scored the first touchdown. Another came a few minutes later on a 77-yard pass play, Graham to Dante Lavelli, who dashed about 42 of those yards.

But before the third period was finished, Enke heaved a couple of long ones, first to Del Embree and then to Buddy Young, who caught the ball on the five and went over.

In the final quarter Kenny Konz broke loose with a punt return, going 43 yards to the five, and Graham was over in two running plays.

One of Graham's screen passes was intercepted by Elmer Wingo, who lateraled to Charley Robinson, and the latter dashed eight yards for the last Baltimore touchdown.

Trabert Wins U.S. Net TitleCincinnati Turns Back on Pro Ranks

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (U)—The United States' new tennis champion is a freckle-faced, 23-year-old ex-sailor from Cincinnati whose immediate interests are marriage, the Davis Cup and college—not a pro career.

"I haven't had any professional offers," tow-headed Tony Trabert said after crushing Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 in yesterday's finals of the National Tennis Championships at the West Side Tennis Club.

"If I had one, I wouldn't be interested. I'm not ready. I'd like to win this thing again, maybe a couple more times, and also Wimbledon. Then maybe—"

This is heartening news for American tennis, which during the past week has seen the peak of world supremacy swing again in its direction.

In Trabert and Seixas, the United States has the No. 1 and No. 2 players in amateur tennis—take your pick on the order—and will be heavily favored to take the Davis is Cup from Australia next December.

"Sure, I think we'll win it," Trabert said after his surprising victory over Seixas. "Australia is counting on those kids (Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad both 19). I don't think they're old enough to stand the pressure."

Trabert and Seixas will carry U. S. Davis Cup colors against Canada at Montreal this weekend, and then into the Challenge Round against the Aussies.

Sometime before or after the Aussie event, Trabert plans to marry a stunning brunette named Shauna Wood from Salt Lake City, Utah. She was "Miss Utah" in the recent Miss Universe contest. She was here to see Tony's greatest triumph.
